

A series of concentric circles in shades of gray, centered on the left side of the slide, creating a ripple effect that fades out towards the right.

tv & multi-tasking

the truth about tv and multi-tasking

The majority of Canadians either don't multi-task on their phone while watching TV, or do so only occasionally.

- Half of Canadians say they never/almost never multi-task on their phones while watching TV
- 27% of millennials never / almost never multi-task (58% multi-task occasionally or less often*)
- Canadians pay most attention to advertising when watching TV content on a TV set

* Occasional + Almost Never + Never

half of Canadians rarely multi-task

49% of Canadian adults say they never/almost never multi-task on their phone while watching TV.

Q. How often do you multi-task on your cell phone while watching TV?

millennials multi-task - but not as much as you think 58% of millennials multi-task occasionally or less often*, while 27% never/almost never multi-task.

Q. How often do you multi-task on your cell phone while watching TV?

even with multi-tasking, tv ads get the most attention

Canadians pay most attention to video ads when viewed in TV content on a TV set

Q. What advertising do you pay most attention to?

want to learn more about the unparalleled power of tv ? we'll come visit you!

Contact us today for a PRESENTATION

info@thinktv.ca

Sign up for our newsletter